The campaign for COLLATERAL COMPASSION

asks:

What about the families whose loved ones were murdered by hate-backlash after September 11?

We request that the Red Cross and September 11 Fund extend financial relief to the families of innocent individuals who were killed by hate-backlash murders in the direct aftermath of September 11. THEY, TOO, ARE VICTIMS OF SEPTEMBER 11, AND OF TERRORISM*. We insist on relief and on collateral compassion for these other victims, who have received no aid or outreach.*

The funds have collected almost $2 Billion, so much, they've been giving big checks to wealthy residents of lower Manhattan many of whom suffered virtually no physical or financial losses. For them September 11 became a windfall. (Wall Street Journal, 2-7-02, Newsweek, 2-11-02, New Yorker, 2-18-02).
